Members can log into the project using Laravel Breeze Authentication to add (articles, categories, members, roles, and permissions), edit, delete, or view them. I utilized the summernote library to enhance writing, allowing for professional formatting of articles. Additionally, I used the Spatie library to assign permissions and roles to members. Some have the ability to only view articles, some can only add members, while others have full access. I also created a profile page for each member to update their password, name, and email.
